Bobbi Dominick is an experienced employment law and appellate attorney.

Bobbi is recognized as one of the Best Lawyers in Appellate Practice, both by Best Lawyers in America and by practitioners across the state. Her decades of appellate experience includes briefing and arguing more than 45 cases involving insurance coverage, bad faith, employment, statutory interpretation and constitutional law, and criminal issues before the Idaho Supreme Court, Idaho Court of Appeals and the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Bobbi also served as a consultant on numerous other appeals. As a consultant, Bobbi evaluated their case, reviewed briefs and assisted with preparation for oral arguments. Her appellate expertise led to her admittance into the prestigious American Academy of Appellate Lawyers in 2003. She also was asked by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to serve two terms on the Court's Internal Rules Committee, and asked by the Idaho Supreme Court to serve two terms on the Appellate Rules Committee. Bobbi was a co-author and editor of one edition of the Idaho Appellate Handbook.

In her employment practice, she is an advisor to businesses in the private sector, non-profits, and governmental entities on all phases of human resources and employment law. Bobbi is nationally certified as a Senior Professional in Human Resources and she served in a Human Resources Director role for a large organization for three years, which means she understands human resource systems and training and how to help employers prevent claims from reaching litigation. Bobbi is also the co-author of the nationally published book, Investigating Harassment and Discrimination Claims: A Practical Guide, and the coming publication of Transforming a Culture of Harassment. These books provide a hands-on guide for human resource professionals who are called upon to address harassment in the workplace and/or conduct a legally sound investigation into harassment, discrimination or retaliation complaints.

Employment Consultation

Bobbi reviews employee handbooks for the latest effective policies, helps respond to Idaho Human Rights Commission (IHRC) or Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) complaints, assesses discipline and termination issues, and assists in performing HR audits to assure that an employer's HR functions are fully compliant with federal and state law. Bobbi also consults with other employment law practitioners to offer advice on unique or difficult employment law issues.

Investigations

The art of responding appropriately to workplace complaints is one of Bobbi's unique skills. She has conducted over 100 investigations of workplace misconduct, including serving as co-investigator in one of the largest harassment and discrimination investigations in Washington history between 2002 and 2005, Greene v. Washington. She understands what the law requires, how to conduct proper investigations and can conduct an investigation under the protection of attorney-client privilege through herself or another attorney. If efforts to resolve the complaint are unsuccessful, and litigation results, she can testify to the adequacy of the investigation.

Workplace Training

Bobbi has 30+ years of experience designing and delivering the right kind of workplace training to help employees understand respectful workplace and company policies. She provides trainings on respectful workplace, discrimination, retaliation and any number of employment law topics. She also offers sensitivity training for the valuable employee that an employer wants to retain, but who needs behavior modification to model a respectful workplace.

Expert Witness

Based on Bobbi's experience as an investigator and a prior Adjunct Professor at Northwest Nazarene University (NNU), Bobbi is qualified to serve as an expert witness, prepare reports, and testify regarding the adequacy of an employer's response to workplace complaints.
