Gjording Fouser is consistently recognized as one of the leading litigation firms in Idaho. Our lawyers represent businesses, hospitals, and professionals in a variety of areas, including: construction, employment law, insurance defense, medical malpractice defense, product liability and professional malpractice defense.

TRUE TRIAL LAWYERS

Gjording Fouser's greatest asset is the extensive trial experience of its two leading lawyers, Jack Gjording and Trudy Hanson Fouser. Collectively they have been lead counsel in more than 200 civil jury trials over the course of their careers, and they have been recognized nationally and regionally as superior trial lawyers. Chambers USA interviewees say "[Gjording Fouser is] particularly sought after for its experience handling jury trials." Although the vast majority of civil cases are settled, Gjording Fouser has the reputation that, if requested by their clients, without hesitation, they will go to trial.

- Chambers USA ranked our firm in the highest category possible, band 1, in the Idaho Litigation: Medical Malpractice & Insurance Defense section. We received a tier 2 ranking in the medical malpractice law – defendants category.

COST-EFFECTIVE CASE MANAGEMENT

Gjording Fouser is a small law firm that is supported by an excellent and experienced staff. Our goal is to provide our clients with top-quality legal services and we take pride in knowing that our clients get the best legal service without the expense of using a large firm which must maintain its overhead demands.

Our extensive experience allows us to skillfully determine a strategic focus early in the matter and that strategy is carried out through resolution, either by settlement or trial. As a result, our client understands the facts, costs, risks, exposure and plan of action at an early stage and can make economic, strategic decisions.
