Jeffrey represents health care facilities, insurance companies and professionals in medical malpractice, complex business litigation and insurance defense cases.

Jeffrey's prior experience includes:

- Serving as the Director of Workforce Management at BNSF Railway in Fort Worth, Texas. In this role, Jeffrey:
  - Prepared briefs for collective bargaining agreement disputes and argued their merits in arbitration. He argued over 200 cases in arbitration and was the lead representative for BNSF in cases involving former employees attempting to return to work after claiming a permanent disability.
  - Served as lead negotiator for local and system-wide collective bargaining agreements.
  - Handled labor disputes for a territory that included eight states and over 6,000 employees on BNSF's Southern Transcon and Powder River coal routes.
- Working as an associate attorney at a law firm in Grand Junction, CO where he represented local businesses in general litigation matters and private clients in family law matters. In this role, Jeffrey:
  - First chaired a trial in a Colorado Fair Debt Collection Practices defense case.
  - Obtained a voluntary dismissal with prejudice from opposing counsel without incurring any costs for his client shortly after arguing a summary judgment motion on a breach of contract claim.
- Serving as a judicial extern to Judge N. Randy Smith of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit where he developed an electronic database of 9th Circuit cases assigned to Judge Smith and assisted with legal research on issues presented on appeal.

Jeffrey provides pro bono legal services to indigent clients through the Idaho Volunteer Lawyers Program (IVLP). He assists clients with filling out court paperwork, educates clients on the Idaho Small Claims Court process, and represents clients in landlord-tenant, family law, and small business matters.

Jeffrey is admitted to practice in Idaho and Colorado.
