Madison is a trial lawyer who represents healthcare facilities, businesses, governmental entities, insurance companies, and professionals involved in complex litigation. She has experience litigating cases in state courts, including the Idaho Supreme Court and Court of Appeals, and before administrative agencies. Madison has extensive trial experience and has had over 50 criminal and child protection trials.

Madison is engaged in Idaho's legal community and has devoted many volunteer hours to enhancing Idaho's legal system and the legal profession. Her pro bono work includes representing Guardians ad Litem who serve as volunteer Court-Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) in cases of child abuse, neglect, and abandonment. She is also a board member for the Marie Blanchard Friendship Clinic, which offers free basic healthcare services to uninsured and low-income Idahoans. She is a well-respected member of the Idaho State Bar and has served on several committees and boards.

EXPERIENCE

Madison's prior legal experience includes:

- Lead Deputy Attorney General for the Idaho Office of the Attorney General where she represented the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare's (IDHW) Family and Community Service program statewide by providing legal support for policy development, civil litigation, and child protection cases. She handled child protection appeals before the Idaho Court of Appeals and Supreme Court. Madison also routinely did legal academy training for social workers employed by the Department.

- Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Canyon County (Idaho) Prosecuting Attorney's Office where she litigated 100+ criminal cases, including homicides, domestic violence, drug crimes, violent crimes, and theft; negotiated settlements with opposing counsel; and served as a liaison for several law enforcement agencies and conducted legal education training.

ACCOLADES
